Summary

The Norwegian Government funded REDD+ project portfolio in Tanzania is creating significant positive results across Tanzania. Along with the research project on climate change and a selection of pilot projects, the REDD+ Policy Project, implemented by Institute of Resources Assessment (IRA-UDSM) has helped lay the foundation for Tanzania's future REDD activities.

The End of Project Review was carried out during the period December to February 2014, by independent consultants, Nordeco. The findings, opinions and conclusions in the mid-term review reports are those of the consultants. Project partners were given the opportunity to respond to the draft end of project review report in writing.
